

Company info

Yamada Corporation is a family owned engineering company headquartered in Tokyo Japan and has been a leading producer of industrial equipment since 1905.

Yamada has over 60 years experience in the design, manufacture and distribution of fluid handling products, with a comprehensive range of pumps and accessories that are well known throughout the world for their quality and reliability.

Yamada is an ISO 9001 & ISO14000 certified company with the majority of manufacturing and assembly taking place at the main plant in Sagami-hara City Japan.

As well as various other manufacturing facilities scattered throughout the Tokyo region, Yamada also provides Sales & Distribution to every region in Japan and has three overseas subsidiary companies strategically located in The Netherlands, Chicago Illinois, and Shanghai China.

Yamada Europe B.V. is a fully owned subsidiary of Yamada Corporation and was opened in 1986 as the central distribution point for Europe, The Middle East and in Africa, with facilities including a large fully stocked warehouse, Pump Engineering, Manufacturing, Assembly and Service Departments.

Yamada Europe is focused on maintaining the Yamada Corporate Philosophy; providing high quality and reliable engineered products at competitive prices, coupled together with a professional and knowledgeable international sales team, offering face to face support to every customer in our region.